Visionaries

Visionaries is an annual content stream focusing on vision integrators and technology disruptors. These in-depth profile interviews uncover the challenges faced by integrators at the front line of machine vision deployment.

We call upon these Visionaries frequently for our online panel discussions, leveraging their expertise on a wide range of vision-related topics – and vendors can benefit from their thought-leadership by having a seat at the table.

Collected interviews, together with market forecasts and leading industry voices, are pulled together in our flagship Visionaries magazine, which will be published just ahead of Vision in Stuttgart.

Packages from £3,000

"All of this began because one person couldn't stand the waste and pulled together a team of like-minded individuals to build a robot on a table in Building 92 one week in September 2022", said Ed Essey, director of business value at Microsoft Garage, who coached Srikanth's assembled team of data scientists and computer vision and robotics experts.

The MV/AI solution to recycle spent hard drives

With still-working hard drives regularly replaced at data centres to avoid disrupted services if/when they do break, 20 to 70 million are shredded every year, with only a small percentage being recycled due to the time required to disassemble
